3 Santa Ana parents arrested at Lou Correa immigration town hall meeting

About 15 minutes before the workshop began, a fight broke out between two women inside the Delhi Center. (Santa Ana Mom deported as a result)

Lou Correa directly hires these goons to come attack us!

As part of this investigation, Beware anyone doing business with violators who are beholden to special interests and all who turned themselves in to the Community April 6, 2024. they are: Valerie Amezcua, Phil Bacerra, David Penaloza, Lou Correa, Avelino Valencia and Tom Umberg

Will Santa Ana Alert Residents of ICE Activity Amid Federal Immigration Crackdown?

<https://voiceofoc.org/2025/05/will-santa-ana-alert-residents-of-ice-activity-amid-federal-immigration-crackdown/>

"On at least four separate occasions this year, the mayor publicly asked the chief of police and the city manager if Immigration and Customs Enforcement agents were conducting enforcement in town.

Each time, top city hall staff said they knew nothing.

Lopez added that Rodriguez's statement shows there is no level of expertise on this issue in the police department and city manager's office and said it was why the city's Sanctuary Policy Advisory group should be reconvened – something she unsuccessfully called for earlier this year.

"Congressman Correa said, Mayor, stay on the down low. He said it to me. He said it to you. He has said it to you, stay on the down low. And you know he's a wise man. He's been in office a long time, so I'm taking that advice," Amezcua said.

Correa did not respond to a request for comment Wednesday.

"There is no way that, as an elected leader, I'm going to hide from this battle," she said about Amezcua's suggestion.

"Any elected person, like the mayor saying, 'Well, let me just hide away and not say his name, because I'm afraid' is unfit to be in office at this moment."

"Many of our community members go to those meetings, or they watch it online, and so they're getting a sense of comfort from the city," she continued. "Acting ignorant in a time where people need a very solid foundation is just terrible leadership because people are trying to understand the chaos at hand."

The network is also demanding officials bring back the Sanctuary Policy Advisory Board, expand the city's legal immigration defense fund, create an emergency fund for residents whose loved ones are deported and an audit into the police department's ICE related activities.

De Anda said Amezcua's public advice to avoid confrontational statements about the Trump administration or ICE enforcement actions will do nothing to quell the fear of residents in the city.

"Community members need action now. They need things like a robust legal defense fund that's going to represent them if they were to be detained," she said. "What the mayor is doing, where it's just kind of pretending like things aren't happening in the community to the most vulnerable populations – It's not good leadership."

"One is that those who are reporting that there has been no ICE activity at city council meetings from the Santa Ana police department are lying. And the other alternative, which is not necessarily better, is that that information is not making its way to leaders within the Santa Ana Police Department," they said.

"There's nothing new about the mayor coming after me," Lopez said. "I really recommend that she seek professional help."

"What I've heard from my constituents is that they want a unified council and leadership, and not a mayor that is consistently trying to bully and harass me for simply giving my opinion."

47 people arrested at UC Irvine after police, sheriff called in over protest

The Council on American-Islamic Relations said the charges were part of "an ongoing nationwide effort" to "intimidate, harass, and silence pro-Palestinian activism on college campuses."

This is the [REDACTED] that came in to OUR city of Santa Ana, CA on Tuesday 5/30 and terrorized OUR community. 30 terrorists came in and blew our police force to smithereens and got to go celebrate their victory; meanwhile our cops pulling guns, running amok, chasing brown people and arresting them, traumatizing our children in their own park. As I said before, I help put on the History Walk for American Independence in the city of Santa Ana. It is not that easy. The Liberty Patriots and I work on it most of the year. I volunteer at the Santa Ana Public Library and we collect history books we can donate to the families and children that come to our event. I use to buy them, but now the Friends of the Public Library donated it to our effort. Our goal is to teach the residents of Santa Ana about our great history. We all ask people we know and people we meet to join us. We ask

On May 20 the county board of supervisors is voting on the landscaping contract for OC Animal Care (OCAC). It's county business, but this city is receiving animal shelter services from OCAC. What the county does matter to the city.

You don't need to ask the BOS to reject this contract. I'll assume that this contract is legitimate and not some type of favoritism. Please tell the BOS to get the county to deliver results on this contract.

I don't know if it's the fault of the contractor or OC Community Resources, but the shelter play yards have deteriorated badly in 2022-2024. The decrepit yards send a negative signal to staff and volunteers, whom the shelter needs to recruit and retain. Staff and volunteers perceive the yards as an indicator of systemic mismanagement. (Some yard problems also pose safety risks.)

Most of the shelter's grass yards used to be visible from public walkways. Beginning in the Spring of 2020 (the COVID outbreak), the shelter blocked public access to some areas, and these yards remain invisible to the public. This may be the reason for the neglect.

You can look at the "After" photos in Karen Vaughn's piece. They came from volunteers or staff, in the weeks prior to the publication of that piece.

I am attaching a map of OC Animal Care. The "Four Play Yards" just south of buildings 5 & 6 are the worst.

On your next visit to OCAC, ask to visit and photograph the "Four Play Yards" south of buildings 5 & 6. Use the map to make sure you're seeing the correct yards.

I'll say it before you do: You are NOT landscape inspectors. I don't want to be a landscape inspector myself. OC Community Resources can and should relieve all of us of this unwanted task by taking care of the yards.

5/20/2025

Hundreds of teachers, counselors, coaches and other school personnel will soon be out of a job. The Santa Ana Unified School Board voted to eliminate the positions based on a $180 million budget deficit.

The school board voted to eliminate about 550 total positions, which includes teachers, counselors, coaches and other school personnel.

The board also cited declining enrollment.

FBI investigates Santa Ana school district's COVID testing contracts brokered by disgraced Anaheim leader

Documents obtained by LAist reveal FBI scrutiny of the testing operation, which was managed by former Anaheim Chamber of Commerce president Todd Ament.

An Anaheim business leader who pleaded guilty to corruption charges now is a key figure in a federal probe into possible corruption involving over a $100 million of COVID testing money.

The FBI has been conducting a criminal investigation into the Santa Ana Unified School District's agreements with several companies
