Resumes

SHRENIK VORA, President

20 years of business career have been spent, entirety, in the demolition, remediation, and asset recovery industry. Beginning in early 2000, in a middle- management level position, and continuing today. Mr. Vora has been witnessing to, and instrumental in, the evolution of IDR from a regional asbestos abatement contractor, to the highly specialized, technology-driven, forward-looking enterprises we are witness to in today’s marketplace. Having started out as a project manager at NCM Demolition and Remediation LP, Mr. Vora gained a very real perspective on the complex set of challenges involved in solving problems, and managing projects to safe, and efficient profitability. Mr. Vora’s personal, hands-on, involvement in all aspects of sales, marketing, estimating, operations, safety oversight, and project management experience gives me a unique perspective of the business, whether for an individual operation, or the industry as a whole. Mr. Vora has participated in the acquisition and completion of over a billion dollars in demolition, asset recovery, and remediation projects, with relatively minor setbacks, either from safety, or commercial issues
